MINISTRY PORTION

CASTING OUR ANXIETY ON GOD

In verse 7 Peter goes on to say, "Casting all your anxiety on Him, because it matters to Him concerning you." The word casting here means throwing upon, that is, committing to, giving up to. The verb denotes a once-for-all act. The words "all your anxiety" indicate that the whole lot of our anxiety throughout our entire life, our whole life with all its anxiety, should be cast on the Lord. We need to learn how to throw the burden of our anxiety upon God. It may now be on our own shoulder, but we should cast it from our shoulder to God.

Although the verb "casting" indicates a once-for-all act, because we are weak, we may need to cast our anxieties upon God again and again. Sometimes we cast our anxieties upon Him only to secretly take them back a while later. This has been my experience. I may cast my anxiety upon the Lord. But a few days later I may realize that I have taken this anxiety back upon myself, and therefore I need to pray, "O Lord, forgive me for taking this anxiety back from You. Once again, I would cast my anxieties upon You."

Sometimes I have said to the Lord, "Lord, I cast not only today's anxiety upon You, but all the anxieties I expect to have in the future. Lord, I anticipate that much anxiety will be coming. All this coming anxiety I will now give to You."

2018 SSOT—YP PARENTS & SERVING ONES NEEDED!

Unlike previous years, the Summer School of Truth this year will be held in June, rather than in July (it is scheduled for June 11-16). We are attempting to help the young people start their summer break with a solid week of being infused with Christ and pursuing Him with their peers. In this way, we hope our young people can be strengthened to redeem and sanctify their entire summer break.

The earlier timeframe, though, means that we will not have the benefit of either FTTA trainees or UCI students as serving ones (since they will still be in school/training). Consequently, all YP parents will be required to serve during the SSOT in some capacity.

The greatest need will be in the group times where the parents can play a crucial role of helping the young people stay focused on the lessons, encourage the young people to participate in the group discussion, and even contribute themselves to the discussion from time to time. In addition, any willing saints who may be open to serve in the SSOT are warmly welcome (including single working ones, young couples, etc.).

If you would like to serve in the SSOT, please contact a YP serving one or fill out the form through the following link: <https://tinyurl.com/2018SSOTregistration>

MANDATORY YP PARENTS' MEETING/COORDINATION ON MAY 19TH

A mandatory meeting/coordination for parents who would like their young people to participate in the 2018 SSOT will be held at 7:30pm on Sat., May 19, 2018 at Hall 1 of the church in Irvine in the multi-purpose room.

This meeting will take place simultaneously with the young people's blending meeting in the main hall. At least one parent per child is required to attend this time (if possible, both parents should come). Some important information will be handed out during this time, including ways to serve at the SSOT.

Other saints who would like to serve during the SSOT are also welcome to join this time of fellowship and coordination.
