God and a conference outline book. At the end there were 4 baptisms and everyone stayed and rejoiced together.

The burden was to have a concentrated time in the truth, to blend them with each other and to blend them with the rest of the saints. They were able to see the local saints pouring out on them. This we believe added a lot to the atmosphere. So the saints coordinated to provide all the meals, tea, snacks and to give them hospitality. There were 6 messages on The Economy of God covering chapters 1-7. We had 42 registered. Registration was 5 euro. We felt they needed to pay something.

Our concept was that singing would be hard, calling on the Lord's name and prayer-reading would be hard. That has been our experience. But that was absolutely not the case. They all jumped in and were very much in the enjoyment and very exercised from the start. We only used songs they knew and taught them one new song.

We realized that when they come to our meeting they are visitors and don't enter in. But when they had their own meeting they readily entered in. They all thoroughly enjoyed the time and were asking when we can have the next one. Our prayer was that they would see something more of the Lord's recovery and the Lord richly answered our prayer. We believe this time was monumental in our care for these saints. It gave them a foundation of a basic truth in the Lord's recovery that the other meetings can build on. Even some that have been with us a long time saw things they never saw before.

Two college-aged girls have been meeting with us for about 3 weeks and their mother came just for the LD. She said that she read the Bible and had a lot of questions. She said after just a few minutes her questions were answered. She shared several times. You could just sense that she felt she was home. One other brother asked his mother to come the second day as well and she had a similar experience.

Here are some of the responses:

"This has been the best 2 days of my life."

"When I saw the topic The Economy of God, I thought, oh no not again, but I did not see it. I finally see it." (At least 3 shared this and one that has been with us for a long time.)

"My husband was obsessed with coming so we asked our boss if we could come. He said only one could come, so I stayed because he wanted to go so much."

"God is crazy—I love Him."

"We want to have these regularly." (Many said this.)

"I have been going for 14 hours and I am not tired at all - I am energized."

"I sense the presence of the Lord so let's all call on the name of the Lord 3 times."

"I really enjoyed the group time, I got to know some of the saints that I only saw."

On the Lord's Day morning we had 49 in the meeting. Word had gone out how glorious Saturday was and they brought their friends and relatives to the training. Amen.
